

PROCLAMATION !

In consequence of the great calamity that has befallen our city, and for the preservation of good order, it is ordered by the Mayor and Common Council of Chicago, that no liquor be sold in any Saloon until further orders. The Board of Police are charged with the execution of this order.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.

Chicago, Oct. 9, 1871.